

THANKS FOR SUPPORTING THE WALK NOW FOR AUTISM EVENT!

OVER 6,000 PARTICIPANTS
AND CLOSE TO
$1,000,000 RAISED!

The Washington, D.C. Walk Now for Autism event held on October 20th at the National Mall (Autism Speaks), was successful in raising almost $1,000,000 for research to ultimately, find a cure for autism that will help so many affected children. A record number of over 6,000 people attended this event, a tremendous increase from 2006 with 2,500 participants.

Majorie Robinson, the Walk Now Co-Chair states, "This year we had increased marketing and awareness of the event. We're very grateful to Runners, Inc. for strategically placing our event road signs in the metropolitan area and for displaying magnetic event signs on vehicles. We also want to thank everyone who helped make this year's event so successful!"
